

EKALAK KLUNSON

BIOGRAPHY

Ekalak Klunson is a Thai film director who attended the Academy of Art College in San Francisco in the Department of Film and Motion Pictures. He started his career as a director by making independent music videos and short movies in the Bay Area.

After his return to Thailand in 2004, Ekalak joined the local film industry and since then, he has directed many TV commercials in Thailand as well as in other Southeast Asia countries. In 2008, as a reward to his refined work, he won the Silver Award from the Davey Award of ANZ Corporated Ad in New York, USA.

Ekalak's passion for filmmaking is always visibly portrayed in all of his works. Being an expert in cosmetics and fashion films, he refined the vision of beauty through his instinctive eyes to catch the best in frames. He became a preeminent Asian in cosmetics and beauty.

Ekalak believes in great creativity and constructive work as being surrounded by passionate people. His international experience taught him that diversity brings an excellent value to the finished images.
